

My Greatest Challenge

After reviewing the information in module-10 I think that I will struggle the most with teaming up. Sometimes I have trouble working with others because I have more confidence in myself and tend to rely on myself even if I can't find a way. As I go through the course it will be important for me to remember that combining my knowledge with other people's knowledge will help me grow and learn the material much better. I will make sure to work with others and remember that I will run into roadblocks that maybe someone else can help me understand better than I can do myself.
